

In The 1600s a hygienic-minded inventor created the bidet, which was called the "riding horse"

By the 1700s, with the advance of plumbing
the bidet was introduced across England, Italy and France

Prostitutes soon understood the bidet's utility keeping the genital bits clean and healthy and began to use it widely.

The "good people" of England and France found this scandalous and disgraceful. To save appearances, they quickly remove bidets from their bathrooms in fear of being associated with prostitutes.

In summary: for 400 years you all have all have walked about with stinky assholes and genitalia for the sake of appearances!!

who is laughing
Now!!
